

Kim Arnold (Design Team Co-ordinator)

I am married to my wonderful husband Gary and we have one son, Benson who is two. We live in the northern beaches of Wollongong – I think one of the most beautiful places on this earth.

I discovered scrapbooking when I was pregnant with Benson and my first project was his birth announcement cards. I was so proud of them then, but now look at them and think of what I could have done!

Scrapbooking to me is a wonderful combination of story telling, beautiful photos and creativity. I am fortunate that both my husband and I have a keen interest in photography so there is never a shortage of photos to scrap. I love to use handwritten journaling and layers of patterned papers. I am a huge fan of new products and have the stash to prove it.

As a way to record my stories for when I have time to scrapbook them, I started blogging. I love this means of sharing stories and ideas with family and friends as well as keeping memories to inspire future layouts. My blog is www.kimarnold.typepad.com.

Lisa Warren

Hi, I'm Lisa Warren - I'm 34 years old and married to my bff Andrew. We have 2 fun-loving and mischievous ratbags (oops-children) Seth (5) & Emeline (3). I work full-time (finance/admin) and scrapbook everyday. I have been scrapbooking for 5 years and I just love it...I honestly don't know what I would be doing with my life if I wasn't scrapbooking (I'd probably have less to pay on my mortgage - how boring). I've always loved writing, photography, art and craft, and scrapbooking combines it all together perfectly.

I find inspiration everywhere - whether it be an ad in a magazine, blogs, sketches, music, movies - you name it. My main inspiration comes from my children and our life. Sometimes I'm driven by the photos and sometimes by the product - it just depends on the scrappy mood I'm in. I always include some form of journaling on my layouts - they say a picture is worth a thousand words...but they're worth nothing if they're not written down! I love adding dimension to my layouts, so I'm thrilled to a part of the Scrapware design team!

Linda Baldock

I was born in Perth, WA and travelled across the Nullabour with my hubby and two young sons to take up residence in Sydney 3 years ago. I began my paper passion about 6 years ago as a scrapbooker but have moved on to ATCs, inchie and all things arty. I am currently in my first year, studying towards my bachelors degree in art. I teach mixed media and altered arts all over Australia and am a permanent fixture at Fred the Needle in Penrith, NSW as their OTP altered arts teacher where I really get my hands dirty with texture and technique.

Kat Glossop

My name is Kathleen Glossop, mummy to Clay, wife to Jason, and complete scrapaholic of 4 years! I'm lucky enough to be a stay-at-home-mum, my boy and my hubby are a constant source of inspiration. I'm a fan of white-space, and would describe my style as fun and detailed. I really do love this craft, it's a passion (or obsession if you ask my hubby, lol), and I'm so thrilled to be given this amazing opportunity!

Louise Nelson

By day/night I am an Operating Room nurse and by night/day I am a self confessed addicted scrapper, which I have been doing now for nearly 4 years.

Scraping is a fabulous outlet for my creative side, and a great stress release when I need to come down from a hard day at work, IYKWIM! The friendships and design/creative opportunities that I have with this creative journey, are an awesome bonus, for which I am always grateful.

Ever since I started scrapping I have been a huuge fan of challenge blogs, and still am today, they are great for kick starting your mojo, and for stretching your creative boundries.

My style has changed somewhat during this time, as I have learnt more about the craft and have started to look at on-line galleries, etc. But I suppose essentially, I am a simple or minimalist scrapper.

Gillian Lester

My name is Gillian Lester, I was born in Wales, UK and now live in Penrith NSW. I am a mother to Milly (Amelia-Jane) who is nearly 5, wife to Ben, best friends to Renee and Jen and reader of Vampire books. My passion is Scrapbooking & I am lucky enough to love my job as I work full time at a Scrapbooking store called Fred the Needle in Penrith.

I started scrapping about 4.5 years ago just after Milly was born and ever since I have been creating OTP and layouts about Milly, my life, family and friends. Milly has 10 up-to-date albums about her life so far, and yes she is Scrap abused and she smiles at every camera which is pointed at her, lol.

I am very excited about being part of the Scrapware DT, and being able to play and create with their great products.

Nicole Pomeroy

I'm Nicole, married to Luke, and we have three children, Charlotte, Zachary and Deacon. We are currently living on a property in Central Queensland. I'm an Artist but once the kids came along I had no time for creating with paints, so I found a new hobby in Scrapbooking which I've now been playing around with since 2007. If I'm not pushing papers around you'll usually find me with my camera attached to the eye, (slowly teaching myself the manual side and I love the experimentation of it) or playing crazies with the kids. I only ever get the chance to create at night when everyone is tucked up in bed, I have to say it's nice just to spend a few hours winding down from the day. If you want to see more of me, my blog is: <http://nmpomeroy.blogspot.com>
